

UCD HEALTH SYSTEMS SEMINAR SERIES

GUEST SPEAKER
Prof. Federico Lega

Tuesday October 18, 2016
13:00 – 14:00
A004 Health Sciences Centre
University College Dublin
Belfield, Dublin 4, Ireland

The presentation will review developments in the Italian National Health Service (INHS), which was modelled after the UK's NHS that occurred after a managerial paradigm and related techniques were introduced. Historically, the highly localised governance structure was marred by inefficiencies and inequities such as a significant divide between more affluent regions in the North and the poorer South. Between 1992 and 2008 the number of local health units (LHUs) was reduced from 600 to 183 and more transparent and accountable governance structures were introduced. The successes and failure of the transformation process will be critically examined on the basis of literature, action research and primary field studies.

PLEASE RSVP at this link or email healthsystems@ucd.ie

UCD School of Nursing, Midwifery and Health Systems
<http://www.nmhs.ucd.ie/>

“Recent Development of the Italian National Health Service”

Director Master of International Health Care Management, Economics and Policy
www.sdabocconi.it/en/specialized-master-full-time-executive/mihmep
Editor-in-chief Health Services Management Research
Department of Public Policy and Management
SDA Bocconi School of Management
Milan, Italy
www.sdabocconi.it/sanita